

1.)

2.)

3.)

4.)

5.)

6.)

7.)

8.)

The image displays eight rows of handwritten musical notation on a grid background. Each row is labeled with a number from 1.) to 8.) on the left. The notation consists of rhythmic patterns on a five-line staff. Row 1 shows four groups of three eighth notes (triols) followed by two groups of three eighth notes. Row 2 shows a group of three eighth notes followed by a group of six eighth notes (sextol) and another group of three eighth notes. Row 3 shows two groups of three eighth notes followed by a group of six eighth notes. Row 4 shows a group of three eighth notes followed by a group of six eighth notes and another group of three eighth notes. Row 5 shows a group of three eighth notes followed by a group of six eighth notes and another group of three eighth notes. Row 6 shows a group of three eighth notes followed by a group of six eighth notes and another group of three eighth notes. Row 7 shows two groups of three eighth notes followed by two groups of six eighth notes. Row 8 shows two groups of three eighth notes followed by two groups of six eighth notes.